Built for the harsh Canadian climate

Rialux aluminum siding undergoes rigorous testing and has been certified by a third-party laboratory (UL Laboratory Canada Inc), ensuring compliance with the industry's highest standards. Designed for superior quality, it combines durability, strength, and aesthetics. Thanks to its high-precision manufacturing, our siding is specially engineered to withstand the extreme weather conditions of North America, providing optimal protection and exceptional longevity for all types of architectural projects.

ABOUT RIALUX :

Packaging designed to make installation easier

The Tiago, Timberland and Bolton* collections offer two to six shades depending on the color, reproducing the authentic look of natural wood. Each Rialux panel is covered with a clear protective film featuring a distinct color-coded logo that lets you identify its shade at first glance. This gives you a balanced distribution of the different panels and a harmonious result, for easier, faster installation.

*THE NUMBER OF SHADES DEPENDS ON BOTH THE SELECTED COLOR AND COLLECTION. MATTE COLORS DO NOT FEATURE ANY SHADE VARIATION, INCLUDING MATTE BLACK, MATTE SILVER, ALPINE WHITE, TERRA BROWN, PEBBLE GREY, ABSOLUTE BLACK, AND DUNE BEIGE.

Wood-look colors with a natural feel

Rialux aluminum siding perfectly replicates the warm look of wood thanks to an advanced lamination process. Each panel is coated with a protective UV layer. This ultra-realistic finish combines the elegance of wood with the durability of aluminum, offering a low-maintenance siding that withstands the elements and maintains its beauty over time.
